To the Class of 2016,

It's amazing how far we've come as a class, from kindergarten all the way to senior year. All of the field trips, recess games, school plays, talent shows, dances, spirit weeks, and fan sections will now forever be in our memories. We have laughed together, we have cried together, and we have grown together.

Each and every one of us will go on to do great things. No matter where life may take us, Medfield will always be our home. Our journey in Medfield is now complete, but the journey ahead awaits. Go leave your footprint wherever your journey may take you.

Dream big, Class of 2016!

The 2015 Medfield football season is one that will go down in history books. This team overcame an unspeakable amount of tragedy and bonded in a way they never had before. Although the season culminated in a defeat, they ended up on top due to the strength of the brotherhood they created.

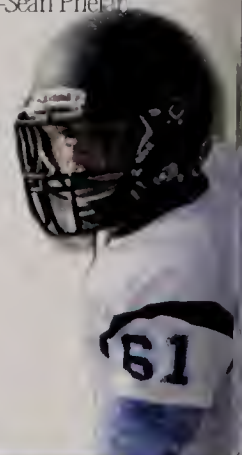

"Our team faced a lot of adversity throughout the course of the season. We played this season in honor of Billy Carabis and Ray Williams. When our teammates were down, we picked them up, and that is what I will always remember about this season." - Tim Warren

"I have never met a stronger group of people than Noreen, John, and Stephen (Sheridan-Williams) and Cathy, Matt, Bryan, and Sam (Carabis). This was truly an unforgettable program to come through, I am proud to say I have the opportunity to play and be a captain for all these great kids and friends. As Ritchie Valens said, 'Yo no soy marinero, soy capitán, soy capitán, soy capitán.' I want to also thank to my family for always being there for me. I know they are going through a tough time right now but hope with all my heart they will come to me if they need to talk about anything that has happened." - George Sawan

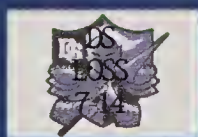

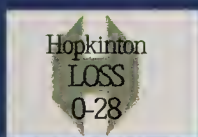

"Even though the season didn't go the way we wanted or expected it to go there is no other group of guys I'd rather play with. We made a lot of great memories that will last a life time. We dealt with a lot more than the game of football which made us close like brothers. Me, We." - John Williams

"It's been a great season boys, one I'll never forget. Although it didn't go the way we planned it was one of the most memorable seasons of my life. Through all the best and worst parts of the season I would have never wanted to play with a different group of guys. Thanks to all the coaches for donating their time to helping us have such an incredible year." - Sean Phelan

Boys soccer started off the season slow, only winning two of their first twelve games. After the mid-season mark, the team quickly started to regain strength. Right up to the end of the regular season, they put in maximum effort to earn the last spot in the tournament. The team shined as a whole during tournament, making it to the fifth round. Their shootout against Walpole and their defeat over Nauset, the number one seed, will go down in program history. Overall, the team showed determination throughout the season and ended strong.

French National Honor Society

The best part of being a part of FNHS is...

Emma- "The common interest in FNHS is the common interest in French that all the members have. This means everyone enjoys and participates in contributing to spreading French language and culture within the community, and has fun doing it. We are a relatively small group, so we have our "petite families Francaise" where we all know each other!"

Jayne- "Having a love for French language and culture that we study in class, and that interest combined with our small size definitely builds a nice camaraderie amongst the members."

Jack- "That we're a small group fighting to keep French culture and language alive at MHS. Its becoming edged out by Spanish, Mandarin and Latin. We're solely a collection of students with a love of French and we try and spread the culture as best as possible."

I am always working to improve myself in all of these areas, and NHS provides opportunities to work with like-minded students to do so. Also being part of a society established in 1921 that spans the entire nation is pretty cool!"

Matthew- "Its great to be recognized for the hard work students at MHS have put throughout high school."

Matthew- "That hardworking students, dedicated to service, are acknowledged for their efforts. Plus there is an unlimited supply of chocolate bars for sale in the hallway."

Mrs. Lodge

HOW WAS MEDFIELD HIGH SCHOOL DIFFERENT IN THE PAST?

MHS was a very different place back in the '90s. It was located next door in what is now Blake Middle School, and the total school population was only around 600 compared to today with close to 1,000 students. Lacrosse did not exist as a school sport, but we did have a skate park located right at the school. Many things have changed, but one thing hasn't.....Marty!" - Mr. Coyle

In my day, MHS was located in the Blake building, and vice versa. The community spirit is much the same, though!" - Mrs. Brown

There were mostly flip phones for cell phones, no iPhones, no iPads and we didn't know what everyone was doing every single second of the school day." - Ms. Estes

TEACHER TALK

Where is the strangest place you have seen a student outside of school?

"New Years Eve Blue Man Group in Boston and I had toilet paper all over my face and someone tapped me on the shoulder and said 'Are you the teacher from Medfield Mr. Coutinho?'" - Mr. Coutinho

"The Gonser and Joline family and I shared a flight back from Florida." - Mrs. Lynch

"I was at a chinese restaurant far away from here, and there were Medfield girls sitting next to me having a sixteenth birthday party." -Mr. Woods

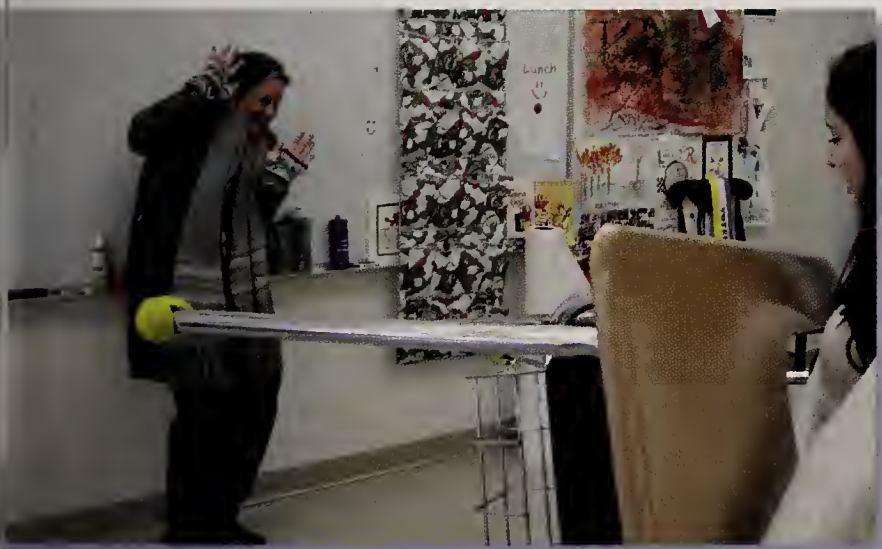

"At a concert at the Xfinity Center rocking out (I was 28) Tom Petty and The Heartbreakers." - Mr. Panciaccio

What is the strangest thing that has happened to you in class?

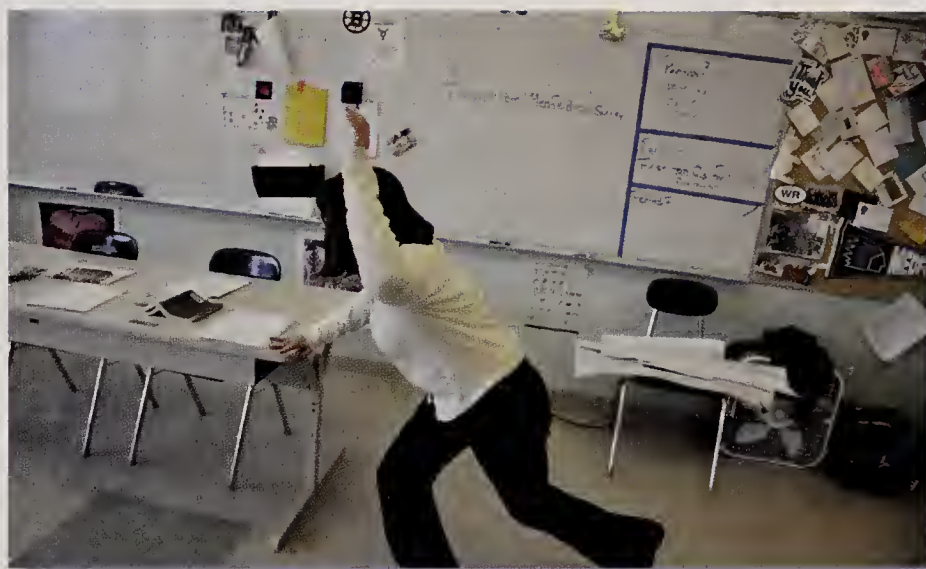

"I had two students break out in a fist fight over the answer to an algebra problem." -Mrs. Lyon

"A student threw a desk at me." - Mrs. Tevis-Finn

One time I was playing with lasers and a smoke machine at the school activated." -Mr.Cowell

"There was a kid standing on a desk during a psych experiment and his pants fell down." - Mr.Penn

"I slipped and fell right in front of my class once." - Ms. Lettieri

"I looked over and a student, without asking, was eating my lunch." - Mr. Mandosa

Principal's Advisory Mr. Parga

Seniors: Cole Foster, Jayne Gotham, Juliana Ockerbloom

Juniors: Marshall Bushnell, Addison Chung, Julia McDevitt

Sophomores: Diana Fedak, Joshua Windsor Knox

Freshmen: Bennett DiIanni, Maggie Long, Breanna Morgan

Vice Principal's Advisory Mrs. Mandosa

In order to involve a broader spectrum of students in her advisory, Mrs. Mandosa meets with a different group each month as opposed to a standing group. In Mrs. Mandosa's advisory various students get to have a chance to have their voice heard and make a difference at MHS.

"It was a fun experience that I would recommend everyone try's to do. Making decisions to help better effect the school is very fun." -Mike Foley (10)

"Academic advisory was a great group to be apart of. It was a once in a lifetime opportunity to be able to make academic decisions like we did! I'll miss you guys!" -Emily Arcari (12)

Something that I really like about Mrs. Mandosa's advisory is that she gets feedback directly from the students. Especially when the school wants to change something or institute a new program, she turns directly to the students for their opinions, which I think is really great." -Nick Wheeler (11)

Vice Principal's Advisory Mr. Sperling

Seniors: Will Bento, Meredith Cox, Danielle McNeeley

Juniors: Matt Keady, Annie Phipps, Owen White

Senior Crushes

The Class of 2016 shares stories about first crushes

"In sixth grade, Molly Shea and I emailed each other a few times, so things were getting pretty heated. At the end of the school year, I asked her out and she said yes. The next day she broke up with me. Over email." - Jason Ebbs

"I had a crush on Kevin McCordic, and I got in trouble for prank calling him too much." - Holly Parsons

"I had a crush on Sam DeWolfe in fourth grade when he gave me sticks of Laffy Taffy which is the only candy my mom never let me buy. He brought out my fourth grade rebellious side." - Eileen Lent

"I had to move my seat next to Matt Treiber in third grade and I was super nervous to so I started crying and said he was mean to me so I could move somewhere else." - Julia Donahue

"In kindergarten Kevin McCordic and I put a note in Ainsley Gonser's cubby saying that Parker Joyce liked her. We were too scared to admit it ourselves that we liked her so we played the joke on her instead to get attention." - Nigel Reiff

"At the middle school dance I cried in the bathroom because Matt Treiber asked Julia Sprofera to slow dance and not me." - Meredith Cox

Abby Darmofal and I had this thing since we had Mrs. Lowerre in fifth grade and we bonded over our love for TicTacs. We had a song about it and everything. Then in sixth grade we had EVERY single class with each other, and we created another song with Rebecca Ju about our full names. We would buy each other presents every holiday. She was my first slow dance to "I'll Be Your Crying Shoulder" in seventh grade. After that, because we were in different clusters our crushes ended and we have moved on since. We are great friends now a days and we still laugh about our undeniable love for each other from fifth to seventh grade" - Cole Foster

"In first grade I had such a big crush on Nigel Reiff. One time I wanted to give him a gift but I didn't have any money to buy him something, so I hid under a picnic table on the playground until I could work up the courage to give him a piece of grass. Somehow I thought that perfectly represented my feelings for him." - Amy Johanson

My first AIM screen name was warriorgirl282 after a code name I gave Tim Warren." - Katherine Opiela

"In kindergarten I had the biggest crush on Abby Scier and used to give her my toys but never spoke to her during or after I gave them to her because I was too nervous. I thought giving her my toys would win her heart." - Jack Vara

"When I was in sixth grade I had a huge crush on Greg Robinson. Erin Bankert knew I did and when I wasn't looking she took my cell phone and changed her contact name to Greg's name. She started texting me pretending to be Greg and I got really excited until I realized that everytime I texted back Erin's phone would go off." - Jen Stanley

"I thought Julia Perry was a smoke in sixth grade but I didn't have the guts to say anything." - Sam DeWolfe

Recreated Memories by the Class of 2016

16 Things I Wish I Knew Before I Left High School...

1. "I was fighting crime."
doesn't work as an excuse for late homework in college. It did work once in high school..."
- Mr. Cowell

2. "I wish I knew how to take it easy and rest here and there to avoid getting sick. (After the fact, my roommate certainly wished I knew how to make my way to the health center sooner!)"
- Mrs. Brown

3. "Don't pull an 'all nighter' to write a paper... I actually fell asleep in a lecture hall during a midterm."
- Mrs. Tevis-Finn

4. "No glove, no love" - Mr. Coutinho

5. "Always, always, always follow your passions in life;
they will take you where you need to be.

That being said, maybe don't choose a college because your girlfriend is going there:
real talk." - Mr. Reynolds

6. "Go to every class. Always sit in the first row. Be intentional with the time you have and the relationships you build." - Mr. Barrows

7. "I wish I knew that the 'freshman fifteen' was not what I had to worry about... it's the 'sophomore sixteen' that gets you!" - Mrs. Flanagan

8. "I remember friends from high school more than facts."
- Mr. Kraemer

9. "There are a lot worse ways to spend your life than helping people" - Mr. Mandosa

10. "Be kind to the lunch ladies. Get a flu shot. Call your parents not only when you need money. Figure out where the library is before class. Change your mind. It's okay to reinvent yourself. Separate your light and dark laundry. Study something that interests you. Always be nice, even if you're tired. Come back and visit your high school teachers, we really do care about you!" - Ms. Tall

11. "Do what you love, and love what you do."
- Mrs. Toubman

12. "Don't talk with your mouth full; you'll lose a lot of second dates that way."
- Madame Goodrow-Trach

13. "WEAR SUNSCREEN!!!
Age spots.
Already. Ugh"
- Madame Goodrow-Trach

15. "Avoid scheduling 8 am classes whenever possible."
- Ms. Renaud

14. "Walk away from the credit card sales people on college campuses."
- Ms. Renaud

16. "Don't worry if you don't yet know what you want to do for the rest of your life; you have lots of time to decide. It's also totally fine to change your mind about your major and career path. I left high school 100% committed to becoming a nurse but then changed my mind during my freshman year of college. Pursue something that makes you happy, not because it's what you always thought you would do." - Ms. Farrahar

It seems like just yesterday I was teaching you how to add  $2 + 2$  and putting "good job" stickers on the worksheets I created. Now you probably know more about math than I do, and you deserve a million giant "good job" stickers on the worksheets that are your lives. That was a terrible attempt at a metaphor but I'm so proud of you both and I love you very much!
